THE BRITISH
PHOTOGRAPHY
AWARDS
COMPETITION
REPORT: 2023/2024

An aerial photograph of a city street, likely in San Francisco, showing a winding red path that cuts through a dense urban area with various buildings and trees. The path starts at the top left, curves around a central green space, and continues down towards the bottom right. The buildings are mostly multi-story structures with flat roofs. There are several trees scattered throughout the scene, and a few cars are visible on the streets. The overall tone is slightly desaturated, giving it a vintage or artistic feel.

Director's Note:

The BPA continues to go from strength to strength and, as ever, it is all down to our fantastic community. This year we had thousands of photographers digging deep and raising funds for their favourite causes, submitting their spellbinding work. We had industry leading judges kindly donating their time as well as massive public voting numbers. Getting everyone together for our Gala in November at The Dorchester was the cherry on the cake!

Our new Awards & Competition Schedules worked well and thank you all again for your patience while we shifted to the new yearly timeline. It has been such a fantastic year and we can't wait to share with you all our plans for 2024 and beyond as we have a lot of irons in the fire.

As ever, as we tally our year's end and look back on a great competition, we would love to thank our judges, our charities, our sponsors and all the volunteers that made this cycle so special.

Most of all thank you to all you wonderful photographers who use their work to support our work!

Looking ahead, we are keeping on with our directive to keep innovating for the benefit of our photographic community.

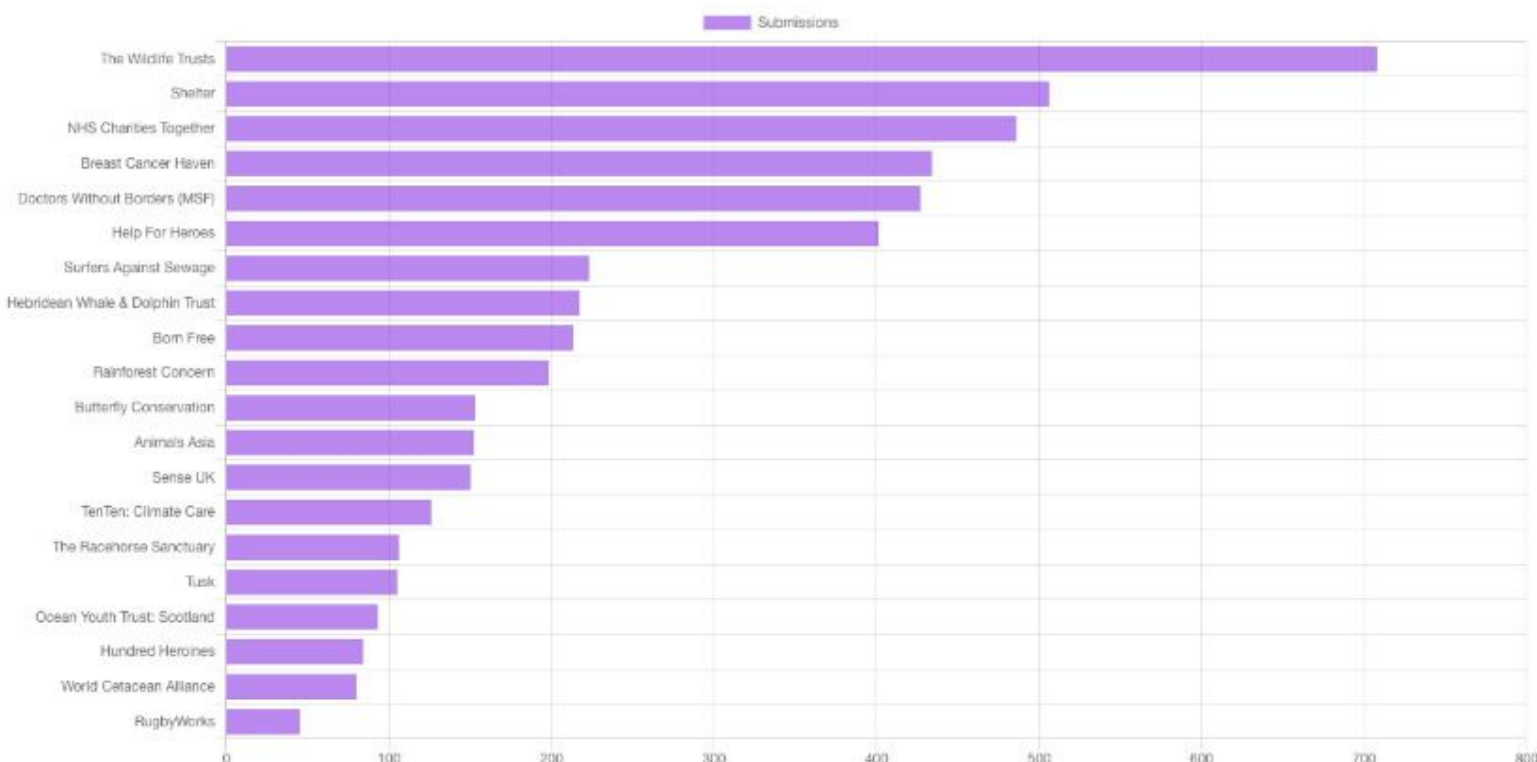

With thanks,
Hugo Donnithorne-Tait

COMING

UP NEXT:

As a disruptive movement, we are always trying to iterate and innovate to make the most for our community of hardworking photographers. We don't like standing still! Here are 3 things we are excited about:

Working with a global tech brand in Q1 to bring you a totally new kind of competition

Pioneering Virtual Gallery spaces, both in Web2 and the Metaverse

The American Photography Awards, our sister project being developed to support US artists and charities!
